2/ the Sea! One other photo Cuisine Portes, Sandwich, is now two miles inland! Nature is showing us the changes that take place in Nature. After we climbed down from the Castle & went to join Mary at the Queen's Arms for lunch, we discovered that they would not allow dogs in the dining room & Mary had gone elsewhere. We soon found her, & instead of being disturbed over the Epidiascope she was quite happy, as her brief glance in the dining room of the Queen's was anything but appetizing and Bonpart did us a good turn again. Mary had been recommended by a Shopkeeper to go to a little Restaurant kept by an Italian - Ferrari - and here we had a most delicately cooked lunch with a fine omelette & end with delicious coffee that would surprise an English Cook! We had to be served in the drawing room, as the Coffee was up stairs, "Where you should be!" - said the Manager, "is taken many of my customers" - We heard a little of their merriment while we were at lunch -
